INTRODUCTION

The complex geopolitical processes taking place in the world today, the coronavirus pandemic and the global economic crisis have shown us that such global disasters and challenges can be overcome bravely only if members of any state and society approach their challenges and tasks responsibly. "In the development of any society, the healthy and harmonious course of adulthood of the younger generation, which ensures its future, is decisive." - says the president of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev.

Since the early days of independence, the democratic legal state and civil society in Uzbekistan have been paying great attention to the issue of human rights and their provision in the process of restoration. For the perfection of a person's personality, civil society is necessary, only a person in civil society can fully manifest all his abilities. The process of development of democratic traditions is closely connected with the economic potential of the country, the high level of citizens and their political activity, and today the formation of civil responsibility in young people in the process of restoration of the democratic legal state and civil society in Uzbekistan plays an important role.

President Of The Republic Of Uzbekistan As Mirziyoyev noted - "the result of the reforms carried out in our country today is directly related to the ranks of young cadres, who are above all, high-spiritually, independent-minded, capable of taking responsibility for the fate and prospects of our homeland".

As you all know, the effectiveness of the reforms carried out in Uzbekistan is first of all a direct link to the restoration of people's spirituality, a wide study of our rich historical heritage, a deep integration of the National idea into the hearts and minds of citizens, the processes of strengthening civil responsibility in them. The main factor underlying the achievements of our country is, above all, the worldview of citizens, the changing of their attitude to life, Labor, to their profession, the strengthening of civil responsibility in them. In order to further increase the effectiveness of the reforms carried out in Uzbekistan, to create conditions for the comprehensive and rapid development of the state and society, to modernize our country and to implement priority directions for the liberalization of all spheres of life, a strategy of action on five priority directions of further development of the Republic of Uzbekistan was adopted in The fourth priority direction of the strategy of action is the priority direction of the development of the social sphere, in which the item on improving the state policy on youth is healthy, spiritually and mentally developed, independent-minded, loyal to the motherland, having a firm Life outlook, in the process of deepening democratic reforms and development of civil society, strengthening civil responsibility in them and, great attention is paid to the issues of support and realization of the creative and social potential of the younger generation, formation of a healthy lifestyle among children and young people, their wide involvement in physical education and sports, social protection of young people, creation of suitable housing and social and household conditions for young families, Organization of effective activities of state authorities and

In Uzbekistan, the issue of restoration of democratic legal state and civil society, teaching young people to think independently in the process of formation of civil responsibility in young people, development of analytical thinking skills in them, formation of worldview of young people on the basis of religious-philosophical, aesthetic, moral values is of great importance.

The law of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on state policy on youth" in accordance with the requirements of today's period has created a solid legal foundation for the education of young people who are all-round, independent-minded, able to take responsibility for the future of our country, are initiative, mobilize their potential in the interests of the people, are ambitious, call for the realization

In Article 5 of the law of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on state policy on youth", ensuring the rights, freedoms and legitimate interests of young people, maintaining the life and health of young people, facilitating the spiritual, spiritual, physical and moral perfection of young people, ensuring open and quality education for young people, creating conditions for employment of young people and their employment, capable to, the focus has been on issues such as educating so as to have firm confidence and vision in life. This article of the law provides for the protection of young people from acts that contribute to the formation of civil responsibility in young people, which lead to the violation of moral grounds, the ideas of terrorism and religious extremism, separatism, fundamentalism, violence and cruelty, raising the level of legal awareness and legal culture of young people, supporting and encouraging talented and talented young people, , there are also such directions as creating conditions for the meaningful Organization of free time of young people and mass development of youth sports, providing moral and material support to young families, implementation of a system of complex measures to create suitable housing and social and household conditions for them, development of cooperation with international organizations carrying out activities in the field of realization

The future of Uzbekistan, its prospects, first of all, are directly related to the issue of comprehensive education of young people, the creation of the necessary conditions for their rational, moral and physical development, and their policy in the field of youth includes the following main areas: ensuring the growth of young people in a healthy and mentally way; absorbing them from the first steps; to ensure that young people know in every way the history of their country, traditions and Customs, its place in the historical development of world civilization, in order to have deep roots in this love and devotion; the development of sports and physical education, the use of sports as a holistic means of glorifying the country and the nation . Increasing the youth's awareness of the results of their work, creative approach to labor activity, the creation of the opportunity to perform their duties with initiative, dedication, the availability of material and spiritual stimulating factors are important in the formation of civil responsibility in young people.

The state policy on youth carried out in our country is a system of socio – economic, organizational and legal measures implemented by the state, which provides for the creation of conditions for the social formation of young people and their development of their potential in the field of social, creative and other spheres. Today, the process of formation of civil responsibility in young people is carried out in harmony with the policy in the field of education of a harmonious generation, the issues of youth's knowledge of different languages, excellent possession of computer equipment, mastering new techniques, technology and science achievements, entrepreneurship and business activity are of paramount importance. The reforms carried out increase the role and importance of young people who are the most active, aspiring, business and entrepreneurial social strata in society. The process of formation of civil responsibility in young people is also directly related to the rise of political and legal culture in them, democratic processes are carried out on the basis of respect for the law, obedience to the law, raising political culture of citizens. In the formation of civil responsibility in the citizens of Uzbekistan, the issue of development of political culture is of great importance, and the process of development of political culture in Citizens has a number of common features.

To these features:

- Harmonization of the interests of the individual with the interests of the state and society;
- Recognition of the decisive role of the state and society in solving social problems;
- The existence of the tradition of being in a relationship with respect to power, etc. The existence of a democratic system in civil society and its strengthening is an important condition for the formation and development of political and legal culture in Citizens.

Today in Uzbekistan, great attention is paid to the social activity of citizens, development of civil responsibility in the development of society, and great attention is paid to the issue of raising the political and legal culture of citizens, above all young people and bringing up moral education between them.

The process of formation of civil responsibility in the citizens of Uzbekistan is carried out on the basis of integration of the sense of Vatan and national idea into their consciousness from a young age, their upbringing based on national and universal values. The strengthening of civil responsibility on the basis of the integration of national spiritual and cultural values into the minds and hearts of citizens, above all young people, and the promotion of national pride and pride in them is one of the most urgent tasks in the process of restoration of state and society today.
