Despite the fact that administration is satisfactorily reacting to forestall violence and ensure casualties as the public authority is by and by winning the fight against Boko Haram and step by step information on government troops protecting scores of snatched ladies and young ladies however a great deal actually should be finished by the public authority to give mental and clinical consideration to survivors of sexual intellectual skirmishes or different infringement as separated from the Chibok young ladies that got away from Boko Haram bondage, none of different casualties of kidnapping or different infringement had gotten any government supported emotional wellness or clinical consideration.
